

VIRGINIA'S EXPORTS

Virginia exports agricultural and manufactured products, including tobacco, poultry, coal, and large ships.

Growth of Virginia's Cities

People moved from rural to urban areas for economic opportunities.

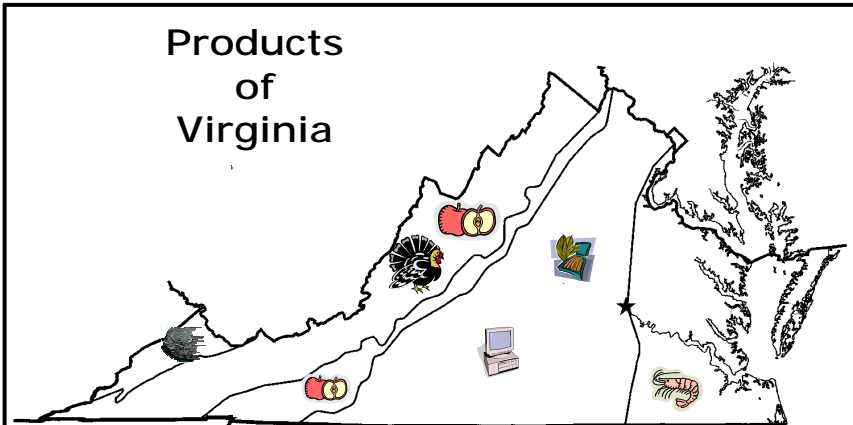

Technological developments in transportation, roads, railroads, and streetcars helped cities grow.

People have moved to Virginia from many other states and nations for jobs, freedom, and the enjoyment of Virginia's beauty and quality of life. Since the end of World War II, Northern Virginia has experienced growth due to increases in the number of federal jobs located in the region. Both Northern Virginia and the Tidewater region have grown due to computer technology.
